PERRITT IS SLAUGHTERED BY CARDINALS

St. Louis, Mo., June 10-Perhaps when he is old and gray Pol Perritt may forget what happened to him in the seventh inning of yesterday's game with the Cardinals. If ever a pitcher had a right to think that his ball game was won, it was Perritt on ascending the bill in the seventh round yesterday afternoon. The score was nine to four in his favor. When the game ended the score was St. Louis 11; New York, 10. The Cardinals had made six hits off him in the previous six frounds and one of their four runs had been acquired without anything that looked like a single. Perritt was going good. pitcher had a right to think that his

Furthermore, his able supporters had just garpered six runs themselves in the fifth inning, enough to, discourage almost any opposition.

And to top it off, Parritt was espedially eager to be awinner on his first appearance in St. Louis this sea-

And then, before he got settled, three Cards had singled in succes-sion, two runs had scampered across, one man was out and Perritt walked out to the shower to meet Stroud coming in. Before Stroud had gotten a toehold on the mound, five more St. Louisens stamppered home and Mr. McGraw's ball game had entirely blown up.

St. Louis, June 10-Lerry McLean, who has been compelled to do most of the Giants' catching during the last fortnight, owing to Meyers' injury, has toppled off the sprinkling cart and has been given a ten-day vacation by Manager McGraw.

Larry's fall from grace took place in Chicago. McGraw informed Larry that he had full knowledge of his es-capade and suspended him for the renainder of the season. Larry at first had some hot words with Mc-Graw and denied his guilt.

However, after thinking the matter over, Larry decided tha the had beter square accounts with his chief. So he visited McGraw and in a very penitent mood he made a clean breast of his affair. McGraw agreed to be lemient with Larry and condensed his suspension to ten days.

Larry was to get a bonus if his conduct was good until July 1. Mo-Graw promised Larry that if he behaved and was a good boy during the remainder of the season McGraw would see that Larry got his bonus.
